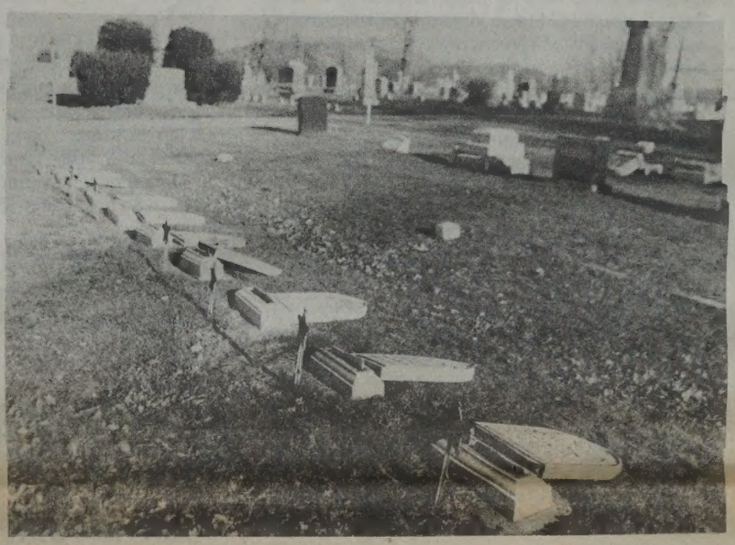
Quick Action by Millbury Police Nets Suspects in Cemetery Vandalism

Surveying the damage in St. Brigid's Cemetery (l-r) Clarence Chase, groundskeeper; Officer Richard Handfield; and Fr. Thomas Markey, pastor of St. Brigid's Parish.



These Civil War markers were part of the destruction at Central Cemetery.

By Andree A. Belisle

MILLBURY - You expect to see somber faces in a cemetery, but the somber faces on those walking around Central Cemetery and St. Brigid's Cemetery on the morning of December 1 were not mourning the passing of a loved one - they were mourning the senseless vandalism of 256 headstones, some dating back to the Civil War.

Four juveniles, ages 14, 15 (two), and 16, have been arrested and charged in connection with the vandalism. Each has been charged with 256 counts of delinquency by reason of willful and wanton destruction of property. Acting Police Chief Ron Stokowski would not comment on whether all four youths are from Millbury.

According to the police investigation, the destruction occurred sometime between 9 p.m. and 11 p.m. on Friday, November 30, and was reported to the police by a cemetery worker on Saturday morning.

Although police did not patrol the cemetery that Friday evening, Stokowski said the cemetery is routinely patrolled unless there is a demand for services elsewhere.

When asked if the police received a tip on the suspects, Stokowski replied, "No. We were led to these individuals following an intense investigation that was based on our knowledge of youth in the town of Millbury." In less than 48 hours, all four defendants were arrested.

Participating in the investigation were Detective Sgt. Lincoln Barton, Officer Gerard Kelly, Officer Richard Handfield, and other members of the department.

Stokowski was asked if any of the four juveniles were at the Youth Center on Waters Street that Friday evening. "One or two of them did go to the Youth Center that night," he acknowledged.

"There is no sign-in sheet at the Youth Center," Stokowski explained. "Parents assume that their kids are going there because they drop them off and pick them up, but that's not necessarily true. What they do between the time they are dropped off and picked up can be anybody's guess."

Stokowski said he was not trying to lay blame on the Youth Center. "It can be a great place for young people to congregate and have a good time, but some controls need to be put in place. I intend to strongly recommend that youths entering the building be asked to sign in and sign out when they leave, for their own protection. Yes, they may resent having restrictions placed on them, but maybe what's needed today are a few more restrictions on our youth."

Damage estimates at the two cemeteries could surpass $50,000. Earl Chase, administrative assistant to the board of Selectmen, said monies in the perpetual care account may cover the damage in Central Cemetery. Chase also said that anyone hiring a private contractor to repair damage to a headstone cannot be guaranteed of reimbursement.

Editorial

A Senseless Act

For anyone who has ever buried a loved one, the vandalism of gravestones in the St. Brigid and Central Cemeteries means more than a senseless act of violence. It means reaching down to the very depths of our souls to recall the passing of a child, a parent, a husband or wife, sister or brother, a friend. For the gravestones that stand quietly on manicured lawns serve as a final tribute to those who have passed on and as a final show of love from those who have bid them farewell.

We have often walked the tree-lined streets of Central Cemetery and remarked on the well groomed plots, landscaped by the loving hands of those left behind. The poet Percy Shelley must have envisioned a cemetery much like this when he wrote, "It might make one in love with death, to think that one should be buried in so sweet a place."

By its very nature, a cemetery is a quiet place, but for those who walk the narrow paths and read the brief histories outlined in granite, a cemetery can also be a place for peaceful recollections of generations past.

However many are guilty of the destruction in the cemetery -they will never fully understand the damage that their act of vandalism did to the living.

We The People...

Thank You...

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all who assisted in the recent recount of the State Representative's race.

A special thanks to Town Clerk O. David Matson, his assistants Frances Gauthier and Christine Billington, the Board of Registrars Frederick Aspinwall, Lora Turgeon and Everett Grahn and all of those who participated in this very difficult process.

The Town of Millbury is fortunate to have such professional, dedicated officials who made this recount run so smooth.

Paul Kollios
State Representative

A Quotable Quote

To the Editor:

Is everyone ready for a laugh? How about this one... "I think it shows support for what we're doing..." so said Paul Kollios. Here's a state rep that narrowly was re-elected by an overwhelming margin of 13 votes, and he's claiming overall support.

If we're all showing support, how come he lost in Oxford and his home town of Millbury?

Thirteen (13) votes in my book doesn't constitute a sweeping victory as Kollios is wrapping himself in, and hopefully someone will wake him up to that fact.

A Ted Koppel remark to Dukakis can be applied to Kollios, "You just don't get it..." do you Paul?

This quote was so ridiculous that the T&G (Sunday, December 2, 1990) picked it up as one of those amusing "quotables."

Please Paul, no more quotes like that, my aching side can't handle the laughter. There's a lesson to be learned from that election folks, and that is, "your vote does count."

So hold that thought and remember it again in two years.

Submitted by a voter who doesn't like what Paul Kollios is doing.

Another Point of View

ANOTHER ONE TERM PRESIDENT?

By Lawrence Moore

Congressional hearings, requests for special sessions, news and editorial comments have resulted in a swirling sandstorm of debate about the deployment of troops in the Middle East. The United Nations resolution and President Bush's address seem to make it clear that his objective is to wage a quick, victorious war in the Middle East, a decision bound to upset the delicate balance of power that has, if not kept peace, maintained a barrier confining Middle Eastern differences.

Possibly in order to divert attention, the President now announces a five country trip to Latin America, the objectives of which, at this writing, are unclear.

If everything was rosy in the United States, there might be some reason for this trip. But, as we've written several times during the past year, the position of our country vis a vis the rest of the world, and the personal status of our people are concerns which, if not addressed, may cloud the future of all of us in America.

Our problems at home are not being solved. Congress and the President are unable to manage the budget. Boondoggles and pet projects are still to be found in the tax bill. Our education system is falling behind. The drop-out rate is increasing. Our infrastructure is in terrible shape. Concrete is crumbling, rust is everywhere. The problems of our environment are increasing. Cities and towns are finding it more and more difficult to maintain, let alone improve, local services. Our banking system is in a shambles, a pitiful example, the savings and loan scandal. The entire undercapitalized banking system threatens our economic development (and forces us to turn overseas). The insurance industry is next on the trouble list.

Aware of the dangers of nuclear and fossil fuel energy generation, we do little to develop alternate methods of energy production. There are energy supply alternates about which we have done very little. Next year's, promised, energy policy includes nothing to reduce oil dependence, and energy watchdog Elihu Berman says "it isn't an energy policy."

We once were leaders in research and development, and then let Japan commercialize our efforts. Now we are lagging behind Japan and western Europe in research and development.

Approximately 65% of eligible voters don't take the trouble to vote.

Crime is on the increase. Drug use continues. Homelessness is growing. Adequate child care for working mothers is hard to come by. Medical costs are skyrocketing. More and more of our population are unable to provide themselves a decent standard of living.

After spending billions upon billions for a great military machine, consider how inept our incursions into Korea, Vietnam, Grenada and Panama turned out.

Barring a nuclear holocaust, the world will not end with the resolution of the Middle East crisis. Unless we take steps to strengthen ourselves at home, our position, not as a super-power, but as a viable competitor, will fade. A recession will make

Millbury Selectmen's Meeting Digest

Selectmen and BOH Discuss Sale of Excess Tonnage

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The November 27 Selectmen's Meeting convened at 7 p.m. with Vice Chairman Donald Gauthier sitting in for Jude Cristo who arrived later in the meeting.

Sewer Project

Administrative Assistant Earl Chase reported that the Sewer Commissioners will be meeting with the board on December 4 at 8 p.m. He noted that each board member's packet contained information on monies required for State and Town costs for the Phase 4 sewer project proposal.

Selectman Roland Lachance asked if the information indicated how the project will be financed. Chase suggested that the board wait until they hear from the town treasurer on financing. "There could be a difference of opinion as to costs and financing," he said.

Water Rates

Chase said he was informed by Town Counsel that at a preliminary hearing on a request for water rate increases for Massachusetts American Water Co., a proposal for hydrant costs to be assessed to all users was dropped. He said a single tariff is being modified to now split the rate increase with Millbury-Oxford getting one rate increase and Hingham and Hull another.

Chase also said that capital improvement projects in one district would not be assessed to all other water district towns but only to the town where improvements occur.

Half Day

The board opted to go with the contract with town hall employees granting a half day of work the day before Christmas. Chase said he had a request to grant town hall employees the full day off prior to Christmas.

Both Cristo and Selectman Gerry Bleau said that such a request could create problems if granted to town hall employees. Bleau said the board should stay with the contract language of one half day, opening until noon.

Sunday Openings

Chase said two package stores have requested a permit to open the Sunday before Christmas and the Sunday before New Years. He suggested that the board consider hearing all requests for Sunday openings simultaneously at the next meeting as statute requires a public hearing and time is running out.

Gauthier, saying he would be opposed to a simultaneous hearing, remarked that if package stores are interested in opening on those Sundays it is up to them to get their requests in on time.

Chase noted that applications would be required to be in by Friday, December 8 at the latest to meet the public hearing scheduling requirement.

The board approved Chase's recommendation for a simultaneous hearing on a 4-1 vote with Gauthier voting in the negative.

Resignations

Lachance read a letter of resignation from Mary Lampron who announced her intention to resign as the Planning Board's representative to the Millbury Housing Partnership because of time constraints.

No vote was recorded to accept the resignation but Cristo suggested that Planning Board Chairwoman Anna Lewandowski be asked to have her board designate another member as a representative.

Rte. 146 Study Committee

Selectman Bernie Plante, the board's representative on the Rte. 146 Study Committee, said that the chairman of the committee feels that the town is not getting any answers from the state relative to the town's concerns with the proposal and its impact on Millbury.

Cristo suggested that a letter be sent to Governor Elect William Weld.

Playground

Chase referred to a proposal for a playground at the Olive Perry Park that was suggested by some residents in the MacArthur Drive area. He said that Mark Strom and Mark West attended a Parks Commission meeting and reported that the Selectmen had approved the proposal.

Gauthier said it was his recollection that the board had informed the proponents of the playground that the matter would have to go to town meeting for approval so that the town land in question could be transferred to the Parks Department by town meeting vote.

Board members agreed that the matter should be settled at the town meeting.

Miscellaneous

- The Council on Aging has requested agenda time to discuss the status of a piano at the Asa Waters Mansion. Chase said the Historical Society and the Historical Commission will also be asked to attend that meeting.
- Homestead Inc. was the only bidder for the conversion of street lights to effect cost savings in town. Chase did say that another set of specs had been taken out.
- The board approved a request from Joseph Scannell to open his liquor store on the Sundays before Christmas and New Years.
- The board unanimously approved a request from Massachusetts Electric to lay a 4" pvc underground conduit at the Latti Farm Industrial Park to provide adequate electric power service for the Telegram and Gazette's proposed newspaper plant.
- Town Planner Dave Hulseberg has proposed a questionnaire to be distributed to the community. Lachance suggested that the board table the issue until all members have a chance to digest the information.
- The board decided to go to town meeting for approval to sell or auction off a piece of landlocked land consisting of 12,000 sq. feet. The board received a letter from Raymond Bartczak asking to purchase the land which abuts his property.

Assistant Dog Officers

The board met with members of the Personnel Board, including Chairman Kevin Barrett who acted as spokesman. The board addressed an issue concerning the payment of the assistant dog officers for part time work. The Personnel Board's concern was that the budget would be depleted quickly if the assistants are called upon by the dog officer to answer a majority of the calls.

Cristo noted that there is $2,000 in the assistant dog officer's budget and said they would have to live within that budget. Assistant dog officers are paid by the call rather than as salaried part time workers. He also noted that the assistants are to be used only when the dog officer can't respond to a call.

Barrett asked for a job description of the dog officer's position. Cristo said it is described in the bylaw adopted by town meeting. There is no description for part time assistant dog officer. Cristo also noted that the dog officer is compensated for court time as well as for the use of his kennels for boarding strays.

Barrett said there may be a need to consider a full time, 40-hour week dog officer's position.

Lachance suggested that the Personnel Board sit down with the Dog Officer for his input on what the job entails.

Cristo asked Barrett if the Personnel Board, while coming up with job descriptions for part time employees, would consider developing an employee performance evaluation form in case the selectmen want to go in that direction with the part-time non-union employees.

Lachance said that, in his opinion, Dog Officer George Royal is doing a good job. He cited the fact that there are fewer stray dogs in town than in the past as an indication of his good work.

Bridges

Lachance questioned the lack of progress in restoring the bridge at Providence Street. He said that businesses on the other side of the bridge are losing money. He asked that the problem relating to bridges be put on the agenda under old business.

Liquor License Renewals

Under new business, the board voted unanimously to sign liquor license renewals. Bleau questioned the name of Joseph Bernardo as manager of the bar at Clearview Country Club, noting that Bernardo has not been on the premises for almost two years. Earl Chase said he was awaiting more information to correct that situation.

Correspondence

A letter was received from Felters Company seeking permission for a street opening off the shoulder of Boria Lane which is in the buffer zone along the Blackstone River near Central Cemetery. The purpose of the request is to allow for the drilling of four test wells as part of an environmental investigation being conducted by the company. The board approved 5-0.

Prior to adjournment, Lachance read a letter from Safety Officer Ron Richards asking that the board take action on several recommendations for the placement of stop signs on Park Hill at Johnston Street, Heather Lane, Weldon Drive, and Holman Road. The board approved 4-1 with Lachance opposed. He said that Millbury will have more stop signs than any other community. He also noted that a number of stop signs presently in place are obscured.

Bleau called it a "sign of the times."

Cristo noted that a transfer of funds would be required since the sign account is out of funds.

Fee Increases

Cristo recognized Joseph Bianculli who was present to speak to the board about the proposed water rate increase, the rate change for subscribers for fire hydrants, the increase in fees for dumping of cesspools at the sewerage treatment plant on Rte. 20, and the increase in dump fees at the transfer

Bianculli also noted that the recent public hearing at Millbury High by the DPU on Mass. American Water Co.'s request for a rate hike was attended by only three residents.

Bianculli said he presented testimony at that meeting which was not rebutted by the water company. He gave the board copies of his statement and asked them to act as an intervenor on behalf of the water users.

Cristo noted that the board had already done that through town council and as a result the proposed hydrant fee rate was dropped.

Bianculli also noted that as a result of Wheelabrator locating in Millbury, the water company

Happy Chanukah
The Festival of Lights, Chanukah celebrates that time many centuries ago when the lights of the temple burned for eight days when there was only enough oil for one day. is receiving substantial revenues for supplying them with 950,000 gallons of water per day.

Cristo commended Bianculli for his research and for standing up to speak. He noted that many people complain but do nothing.

Lachance asked Bianculli to attend the board's meeting with the Sewer Commission to express his concerns on a proposal to be presented by the commission for the next sewer construction phase which could total $6.3 million.

Tonnage

Board members adjourned to the Board of Health office for an informal discussion on Cristo's suggestion that the town broker any tonnage not used by the town at a market price. Cristo noted that if the tonnage is to be put out to bid or sold it would have to be done soon as the end of the year is approaching.

James Dwinell, Board of Health Chairman, said he didn't think there was any way that tonnage could be sold off. "Where does it say (in the contract) you can sell it," he asked.

"Where does it say we can't sell it?" Cristo replied. "I think if you have the ability to sell something you should try to sell it."

Cristo also said, "If Wheelabrator doesn't like it, maybe they can come back to us for additional negotiations. Maybe there is an option. I don't know, I have something in mind. If they want to talk about it, now, I think we are in a position to talk about it."

Cristo said the selectmen may go into executive session next week to discuss potential bargaining strategy. "If we have a chance to make some money," he said, "I would hate to pass it up."

George D'Auteuil, of Frank Rubbish Removal, said that if the town keeps going in the direction it is with recycling, it should be able to invite new business into town without rubbish being a major problem. "If you recall what I said two or three years ago," D'Auteuil said, "that if you take into consideration the mandates, the recycling, you're not really going to have to worry about your tonnage if the town gives a total effort. There are already a lot of people recycling in town. Probably more than you realize."

"I think we should go out and pursue it (putting the excess tonnage out to bid)," Cristo said. He suggested that next week both boards get together and vote on brokering the tonnage.

Youth Center Participates in Adopt-a-Grandparent Program

MILLBURY - The Millbury Youth Center is participating in an "Adopt a Grandparent" program at the Providence House in Millbury. Although originally planned for the Christmas season, this project has been postponed until January. The teenagers are also preparing a videotaped musical project for the home. Sue Ryan, Assistant activities Director at the Providence House, and a member of the Youth Commission, is the liaison for these projects.

The Millbury Youth Center is also participating in WFTQ's Community Club Awards. By saving receipts from Worcester area businesses such as Goretti's, Spag's, O'Coin's, and the Auburn Mall, and competing with other clubs for points, the teens could win cash awards for the Center. Bonus points are also gained by sending packages to the Armed Forces in the Middle East and by saving Maxwell House coffee cans and labels. If the Youth Center does win any money, a portion will go to a local charity. Anyone able to donate receipts is asked to bring them to the Youth Center on Friday or Saturday evenings, 7-11 p.m.

Christmas Morning Service

WORCESTER - A traditional Swedish Julotta, Christmas morning service, will be held Tuesday, December 25, at the Salvation Army, 884 Millbury Street at 7:00 a.m. Although the service will be in English, Swedish carols will be sung. Beacon Hill Roll Call

"Beacon Hill Roll Call" records the votes of Senator John Houston and Representatives Richard Moore (D-Uxbridge) and Paul Kollios (D-Millbury) on seven roll calls from the week of November 26-30.

DELAY SERVICE TAX (H 6317) - House 135-3, Senate 27-4, approved and sent to the Governor the bill delaying until March 6 the imposition of the state sales tax levy scheduled to take effect December 1 on some 594 services. Delay supporters said this delay, rather than repeal, is a compromise which will allow Governor-elect Weld and the new legislature a chance to work out alternative action. Opponents said the tax is necessary to generate up to $300 million in revenues to balance the budget. Houston, Moore, and Kollios voted for the delay.

411(H 6280) - House 125-12, gave near final approval to the bill authorizing New England Telephone to charge customers after 10 free directory assistance calls per month and establishing an enhanced 911 emergency telephone response system and special phone services for the handicapped. Supporters said the enhanced 911 system is essential to public safety and argued it will be funded by people who abuse 411. Opponents said this anti-consumer bill is a money grab by the phone company which is holding 911 hostage to 411 and which has a goal of no free 411 calls. Moore and Kollios voted for the bill.

15 CALLS (H 6280) - House 89-53, Senate 27-2, rejected an amendment increasing the number of free 411 calls from 10 to 15 per month. Amendment supporters said the increase makes the bill fairer and noted it is impossible for people to collect books from all over the state. Opponents said the hike will decrease the revenue which will be used to fund the 911 system and handicapped services. Houston and Moore voted against the hike. Kollios voted for it.

25 CENTS AND AREA CODES (H 6280) - House 79-66, rejected an amendment capping the 411 charge at 25 cents per call and prohibiting charges for callers requesting numbers outside their area code. Amendment supporters said this will establish a reasonable cost and argued it is unfair to charge people for numbers outside their area code. Opponents said the cost should be at least 35 cents per call to adequately fund 911 and handicapped services and argued the areas code restriction would result in some callers not paying for calls requesting numbers in communities only a few miles away. Moore voted against the cap, Kollios voted for it.

AREA CODES (H 6280) - House first approved 74-68, then rejected 79-56, an amendment prohibiting charges for callers requesting numbers outside their area code. Amendment supporters said this is a fair solution and claimed it is absurd for people to have to collect directories from all over the state. Opponents said this amendment would cut revenues in half and endanger funding of the 911 and handicapped services. Moore against the amendment on both roll calls. Kollios voted for the amendment on both roll calls.

INTERPRETERS (S 1693) - House 100-47, refused to reconsider earlier approval of a bill exempting two individual Court Interpreters in Hampden County from the language proficiency exam. Reconsideration supporters said the bill is simply special interest legislation to help two people who failed the exam and claimed this will result in the erosion of a good law. Opponents said the bill simply assists two Hispanic interpreters who have performed well and should be kept on the job. Moore voted for the bill. Kollios voted for reconsidering approval of the bill.

A panel of judges will do the rest. The winner will be announced and notified by telephone on Friday afternoon, December 21.

"Rags" was last year's puppy, and he went home with a winning family who loves him very much. He wagged his tail all the way home, and didn't bark even once!

Manchaug High on Santa's List

Members of the Manchaug Recreation Committee and Santa discuss plans to raise funds for a playground in the Manchaug section of town: (l-r) Tootsie Heffernan, Sally Benoit, Phil Berube, and Selectman Rick LaBonte. Seated on Santa's knee is Melissa Berube. We should point out that Santa's chair was custom made by Manchaug's own Harvey Bileau.

SUTTON - If you can't bring the kids to see Santa at 6:00 in the afternoon or 10:00 in the morning, try bringing them to the front of the Manchaug Library at 10:00 p.m., midnight, 2 a.m., 5 a.m., or any time between 5 p.m. on Friday, December 14, and 5 p.m. Sunday, December 16.

In order to help raise funds to provide a playground for youngsters in the Manchaug section of town, Santa has agreed to brave the weather and sit out in the cold for 48 hours. "I'm determined to get a place for the kids in Manchaug to play," Santa was heard to say to Manchaug's own Harvey Bileau.

Santa will be passing out candy canes to all the children. Parents will be able to have a Polaroid picture taken of their children with Santa for only $3.00 - a bargain at any price!

On Sunday, December 16, from 3-5 p.m., members of St. Anne's Catholic Youth Council will join Santa and sing Christmas Carols. A bake sale will also be held on Sunday (donations always welcome).

The Recreation Commission is accepting pledges and donations for Santa's 48-hour effort. Checks may be made out to Veterans Field Fund and mailed to the Sutton Municipal Building, Uxbridge Road, Sutton, MA 01590. In the event of rain, all activities will be held in the lower level of the library.

The Millbury Public Library is joining forces with libraries across the country in the "Year of the Lifetime Reader" photo contest. Amateur photographers from Millbury and surrounding communities are invited to enter this national contest which is being sponsored by: Millbury Public Library, American Library Association, Library of Congress Center for the Book; and World Book, Inc.

Your assignment awaits you at bus stops, in coffee shops, at the airport, in the park, at book stores and libraries, anywhere people are reading. And the average age of your subject? There isn't one.

Amateur photographers of all ages are encouraged to snap those "happily ever after" moments that personify the pleasures of lifelong reading. Competition and exhibition takes place in January at the Millbury Public Library, 128 Elm Street.

AWARDS AND PRIZES

A grand prize of $2,000 will be awarded for the best photograph overall. The grand prize winner will also receive a trip to Washington, D.C. and a personal tour of the Library of Congress.

Cash prizes will be awarded in youth and adult divisions for black and white color photos: $1,000 for first place; $500 for second place; $250 for third place.

National winners will be included in a photo exhibit that will premiere at the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C. The winners will be announced during National Library Week, April 14-20, 1991. Entries will also be included in the Millbury Public Library's "Year of the Lifetime Reader" community photo exhibit, January 31- February 9, 1991.

CONTEST AND EXHIBITION RULES

1. The contest is open to amateur photographers in Millbury and surrounding areas. There are two divisions: Youth (age 6-17) and Adult. An amateur is someone who does not support himself or herself by taking photographs (although he or she may have sold photos for publication).
2. Each photographer is limited to 3 entries.
3. Photographs must illustrate the theme, "Year of the Lifetime Reader," showing the pleasures of reading throughout life.
4. Prints may be black and white or color, unmounted 8" x 10" or 5" x 7" and have been taken since January 1, 1990. No composite photos, multiple prints, double exposures, montages or "sandwiches" of more than one photograph.
5. Photographers must enter first at the Millbury Public Library, or other local participating libraries. Photographers may enter only one local contest.
6. Photos for competition and exhibit must be submitted to the Millbury Public Library, 128 Elm Street, between January 15-18, 1991. First place winners will be forwarded for national judging.
7. Each photo must have a completed entry form taped to the back and be accompanied by appropriate release forms.
8. Photographers must be able to furnish original slides and negatives if requested by the American Library Association.
9. Local winners will be announced during National Book week, January 20-26. National winners will be announced during National Library Week, April 14-20, 1991.
10. Employees of the American Library Association, the Library of Congress, World Book Inc., and the Millbury Public Library or other local participating libraries, are not eligible to participate.
11. All entries submitted for national judging become the property of the American Library Association and may be used for any and all purposes, including advertising, promotion and trade.
12. To be included in the Millbury Public Library's community photo exhibit, entries must be framed and suitable for hanging.

For more information about the contest and exhibit, call 865-1181.

people more and more conscious of their plight. It is entirely reasonable to expect our Government to take steps to ensure that we will be able to provide a decent quality of life for ourselves.

President Bush has two years in which to demonstrate his ability to recognize the problem and to take steps to solve it. During the next two years, the rest of the world will not be standing still. Our job will be hard, but the longer we delay the start of the process, the more difficult it will be.

The time is now for a National Domestic Initiative. One thing seems certain. If President Bush does not address domestic problems, he will be a one-term President.

From My Window on Farnsworth Court

By "Pastor Rae" Cameron

Well, sir, it surely has been very confusing and not amusing. This is in reference to the new Pine Grove Villa situation here in Millbury. There have been several meetings on the issue and every time something new comes to the fore. The latest I got was that as of October 1st all level 3 nursing homes were to be closed down in accordance with new Federal regulations. Then I was told that was not true, but that no new level 3 nursing homes were to be opened. The New Pine Grove Villa is listed now as a level 3 nursing home, but what you do is just change the name of its listing. Sounds like government bureaucracy.

The purpose of all these meetings was to halt the moving of the patients until a buyer could be found and that has happened. Right now Pine Grove is operating and being maintained apparently on an even scale. The patients are being cared for and the workers are receiving paychecks that are no longer bouncing. Several buyers have come forth, but there are a great deal of complications.

Those in attendance at these meetings are what I call, "The same old crowd." In every community and organization there are the faithful few who do all of the work. Why we are there is a very good question. It is very heady to be among these folks and I'm sure we all are asking ourselves about what we are doing and what can we do.

I asked one man what his role was in all of this and he told me his technical part, but then he said, "most of all I'm here because people are involved." I hope he speaks for all of us. First and foremost is the welfare of the patients and then the jobs of the workers there.

My own Christian experience had a dramatic change when I read this definition of "soul winning." "Soul winning" is the introduction of a person by a person to a person. Our Christian God is revealed to us in three personalities, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. We are about to celebrate the birth of God's Son, Jesus Christ, who is the fullness, the full revelation, of God in bodily form. We are to receive Jesus as our own personal saviour, and be filled with the personality of the Holy Spirit in order to be in right relationship with the person of God the Father. Amen.

Visit Planned to Clara Barton Museum

Clara Barton

MILLBURY - On Christmas Day in the year 1821, the Barton family of North Oxford received a very precious gift, even though it was a time in history when there was little gift giving or observance of the holiday in New England. A baby girl was born. Clarissa was her given name, but the world would know her as Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross.

Prior to achieving international fame, Clara was a teacher for a period of time. She taught at the West Millbury School, not the little red schoolhouse, but its antecedent which stood across the road.

The Millbury Historical Society will visit her birthplace, the Clara Barton Museum in North Oxford, which is offering special events on Saturday, December 8, from 2-4 p.m. Members and the public are invited. A tour of the farmhouse will be followed by a Holiday Tea. The gift shop has been stocked for your Christmas shopping. In honor of Clara's December 25th birthday, the museum does not charge for this event. Those planning on attending are asked to meet at the Waters Mansion at 1:30 p.m. to car pool. Call Grace Laflash at 865-4563 if you are interested.

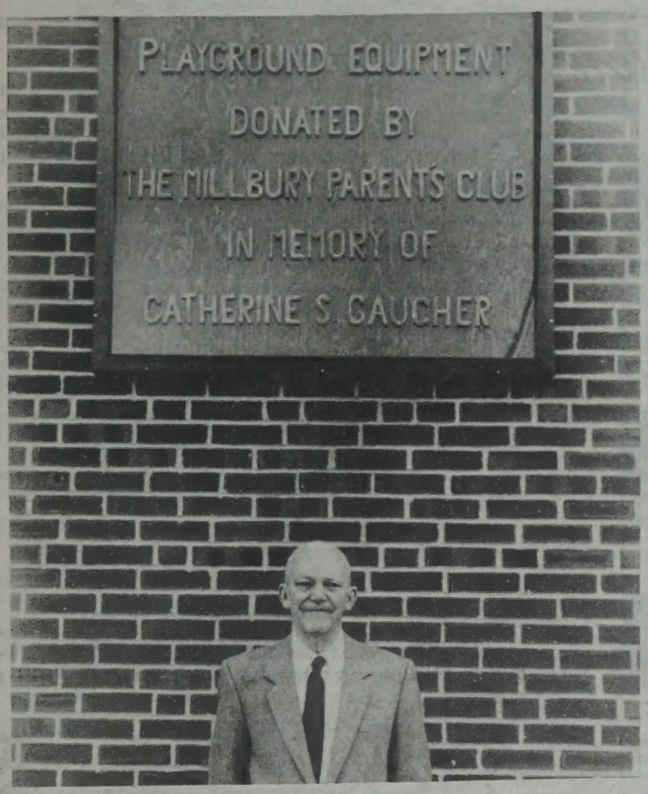
A Source of Pride



MILLBURY - Leroy Pride stands beneath a commemorative sign he made for the Shaw Elementary School. The sign reads "PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT DONATED BY THE MILLBURY PARENTS CLUB IN MEMORY OF CATHERINE S. GAUCHER." Mrs. Gaucher was a much loved teacher in the Millbury school system.

The sign is one of many contributions Leroy and his wife, Lillian, have made to Millbury. Mr. Pride is very active as a school volunteer. After retiring as a chef from Heald Machine, he and his wife became involved in the school through their son, Jonathan, a third grade teacher at the Shaw School.

Mr. Pride has taken his avocation, woodworking, and has shared his talents with students on a variety of hands-on projects. He also serves on the School Council and has attended a conference on school volunteerism. Mrs. Pride is a volunteer in the Elmwood Street School Library.

CEMETERY

According to the Rev. Thomas Markey, pastor of St. Brigid's Parish, there is no insurance to cover the damage at St. Brigid's Cemetery. "You couldn't afford to pay for it," he said. "Legally, they tell me we have no responsibility because a gravestone is the responsibility of the person who buys the stone. The cemetery doesn't demand that a stone be put on lots." Markey did add that, morally, there is some responsibility.

Markey also said that if the parish can hire its own people to repair the damage, the cost may be minimal. "If we have to hire monument companies," he said, "it will be more."

Paul Erickson, Personal Lines Supervisor at the Protector Group Insurance Agency, said coverage for damaged gravemarkers is provided for under a homeowner's policy, minus a deductible, provided you can prove ownership of the marker. "If it was a marker that may have been purchased somewhere down the line by another family member that is not a member of your household," he added, "then your policy wouldn't provide the coverage for it, their policy would." Erickson also noted that this coverage may not continue to be available in the future.

Stokowski said he would like to see juvenile defendants in general pay the monetary price associated with their crimes, but, "there is no provision in the state for juveniles," he said. "When they start working there should be an attachment on their pay."

Many people have commented that those involved in the vandalism should be made to perform community service as part of any probation. Stokowski strongly disagreed: "If they are such....that they would do damage such as this, what kind of work do you think we would get out of them? What can you expect out of them? It would be a burden to the town to assign people to watch them. I don't want them doing community service in my community because it's a costlier burden to the Town.

"We're not talking routine vandalism here," Stokowski continued, "this is vandalizing something that everybody holds sacred. The damage that's done there, yes, maybe most of it can be repaired, but what about the damage that the people who have people there have suffered. That's the most important thing; that damage is irreparable."

Please Note...

Because of the events that took place at Central Cemetery on November 30, the article dealing with the Rte. 146 interchange and eminent domain that was scheduled to appear in this week's paper will appear next week.
